Killing of Calmette Results in Riotous Demonstrations in Paris.

BATTLE WITH POLICE.

Feeling Against Mme. Caillaux, Now in Prison Awaiting Trial, Growing More Bitter.

Paris, March 18.—As a result of the public excitement aroused by the Calmette tragedy, the city is well guarded today.

Republican guards are stationed in the streets at intervals of a few hundred yards, ready to disperse any group which atempts to repeat the angry demonstrations of last night, when numerous arrests were made.

Several minor riots occurred in the early hours today in royalists cafes. At the Cafe Napolitan, a journalists' retreat, a crowd of about 200 gathered and repulsed the police with chairs, carafes, bottles, and chinaware. Seventeen arrests were made there.

Out of the mixture of women and politics, tragedy and cabinet disruption, came the almost positive assurance today that France will undergo an ordeal second only to that incident to the Dreyfus trial when Mme. Caillaux, wife of the former minister of finance, is placed on trial for the murder of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro.

Fairly overshadowing the present political situation is the certainty that the defense will be the "unwritten law."

Maitre Labori, one of the most noted attorneys in France, has agreed to defend Mme. Caillaux, "for the sake of humanity." He was a friend of Calmette, but said the fact that the accused was a woman and without friends, led him to accept her case.

With such a defense as is planned, efforts will be directed towards showing justification for the slaying of Calmette, by Mme. Caillaux in defense of her own name to shield her daughters The airing of political intrigues and the shaking of the entire administration is promised by the fight that will be made to have Mme. Caillaux.

A big demonstration by the Royalists is expected Friday when the funeral is held. Arthur Meyer, a royalist leader, draws a parallel between the shooting of Calmette and the slaying of Victor Noir, a noted journalist, by Prince Pierre Bonaparte in 1870, in an article published today.

Feeling was extremely bitter against Mme. Caillaux and the former minister today. In an editorial the Figaro denies that the published personal letter which led to the tragedy was addressed to Mme. Caillaux, as she declared. It is also denied that Calmette possessed letters written by Caillaux to the beautiful woman, now in custody before they were married.

One report today was that the letter was in reality addressed to Mme. Dupre, former wife of Caillaux. The letter was written before Mme. Dupre became Caillaux's wife.

Not in years have the lines between the various political factions stood out in such relief as following the Calmette tragedy.

LADIES WEEK AT GAYETY.

Washington Burlesque Theatre to Have Attractions for Ladies.

A new departure will be commenced next week at the Gayety Theatre, the poular Washington burlesque theatre on Ninth street. Ladies week will be commenced and if attended as in other cities it will be continued as a feature of this theatre.

A few days ago Julia Murdock, one of the clever dramatic critics in Washington, visited the Gayety and following are some of the things that impressed her:

"Really, I can't remember a suggestive thing about the whole performance. It was bright, sprightly— spicy at times, but not offensively so—and it seemed to me particularly clean. The costumes were pretty, well selected nad worked out a carefully thought color scheme. The scenery was attractive, the same people painted it who prepared the "Garden of Allah" scenery.

"The show was like a musical comedy. It had even less plot than most musical comedies. There was considerably more latitude in the music, because practically all the songs were "introduced." They were what one hears on the phonograph, and most of them were new. There were many comedians and quite a lot of pretty girls.

"At stated intervals during the action specialities were introduced. They were not unpleasant. The humor was a bit more direct than one usuallly hears in the legitimate show because the people who use it must be sure to "get it over." The usual burlesque show consists of three parts—a burlesque first part, ffan olio, which means a series of specialities, and an after piece. The show I saw at the Gayety did not follow these exact lines. It was more like the Follies—a sort of continuous procession of events that were connected only because they happened on the same stage, and the intervals between them were minute."

"There must be a lot of women in Washington who don't know any more about a burlesque show than I did. That is the reason I'm writing this. In other cities the shows that play the Gayety here have as many women in the audiences as men. Here a woman seldom goes to such a place.

"And there seems to me to be no reason for it. It is cheap and it it restful. There is nothing about it that requires mental effort to understand. It is simple and direct. There may be parts of it sometimes that some women wouldn't like—but that's the answer to the vaudeville show, too.

"In the language the immortal Patrick Henry would have used had he ever addressed himself to the situation.

"I care not what other women may do, but as for me—I'm going again! If that be treason to tradition—make the best of it."

SLAYER LYNCHED.

Strung up to Tree Behind Jail an Hour After Shooting Popular Official.

Fayette, Mo., March 18.—Sight of a bulky figure swinging from a tree behind the county jail at daybreak today was the first intimation to most of the citizens of Fayette that Dallas Shields, a colored barber, who shot and killed Constable Joseph Gaines last night, was quietly lynched at midnight.

Gaines was one of the oldest constables in Missouri, and very popular. He was killed while trying to arrest Shields for terrorizing a railroad yard. An hour after Shields was lodged in a cell, a mob dragged him from the jail.

Pupils Intoxicated.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 18.—Astonishing charges that Philadelphia school children, some only six years old, attend their studies while under the influence of liquor, are being investigated by the Board of Education.

That liquor drinking among the children in the schools is no uncommon practice was the declaration of Miss Viola W Daltry, principal of the Wilson school at a meeting of the Home adn School last night.

REFUSES TO SIGN RAILWAY TAX BILL

Stuart Lets Rolling Stock Measure Become Law Without Signature.

NOT FAIR TO CITIES.

Act Likely to Interfere With the General Plan For Tax Revision by Legislature Next Year.

Richmond, March 18.—On the ground that its terms are unjust to the cities, Governor Stuart refused to sign the Williams rolling stock tax bill yesterday, the measure becoming a law without his signature. The Governor announced that he favors such a distribution of the rolling stock tax as is proposed, but feels that the apportionment in the Williams bill is not equitable. By withholding his signature he does not pledge himself to a system of railway taxation which will play a prominent part in the revision of the tax system next January.

Secretary Forward gave out the following statement from the Governor in explanation of his failure to sign the measure.

"The rolling-stock bill became a law last night without the Governor's signature. As the measure had been in his hands five days, and as the General Assembly had not yet adjourned, under the Constitution the measure is law.

"It is understood that Governor Stuart approves the principle of an equitable distribution of rolling-stock taxes. However, the measure as passed does the cities in his opinion, an injustice in the matter of distribution of taxes on electric railroads. Besides, he thinks a slightly larger percentage on steam roads might have been accorded to the cities. Still, the bi" came to him so late in the uctual session as to prevent its return for amendment without endangering the entire proposition.

"Realizing that the distribution of taxes on rolling stock may be part of the general plan of taxation, the Governor withholds his signature, and thus does not pledge his support to a single idea which would affect the structure of tax reform."

The General Assembly of 1913 passed a rolling-stock tax reapprotionment bill giving the home city 25 per cent and the counties 75 per cent of the tax. This bill was declared unconstitutional by the State Corporation Commission, and is now before the Court of Appeals for review.

GEESE KILL BOY DRIVER .

Resent Being Hurried And Attack Lad Attending Them.

Racine, Wis., March 18.—Frank Chumieck, 9-year-old son of a farmer living on the extreme tip of Wind Point, north of this city, where geese raising is a specialty, was attacked yesterday by a flock of geese, and so badly injured that he died.

The boy was used to driving the geese to the yard for feed, and some times used a stick to hurry them along. This time he hurried the geese so they became enraged and turned upon him. They crowded around him so closely that none could injure him directly, but after the lad's father had driven them away, the boy was in convulsions and died five minutes later.

STEAMER GOES ON ROCKS.

City of Sydney Strikes in Fog, But Passengers and Crew Are Rescued.

Halifax, N. S., March 18.—The steamer City of Sydney, New York for St. John's N. F., is on the rocks at Sambro, a few miles from here She struck during a dense fog early yesterday and water in her stoke hole put out the fires She carries a number of passengers.

Several vessels were dispatched to her assistance from here and boats have gone out from Sambro.

The weather continued extremely thick during the forenoon and boats had difficulty in locating the steamer. Early reports said that the Sydney had grounded on Stag Rock, at the southwest entrance to Halifax harbor, and was in a dangerous position.

The city of Sydney is a steamer of 1,600 tons and plys between New York, Halifax and St. Johns, N. F. She carries a crew of about 40 under Captain McDonald.

The tug Rosemary reached the stranded steamer during the morning and immediately took off 11 passengers and 30 of the crew. The Rosemary reported by wireless that the Sydney was in a bad position and likely to be a total loss.

Other tugs reached the Sydney yesterday afternoon and began the work of taking off the remainder of the crew. The transfer was made with some difficulty, as the sea had become rough since morning. It was practically decided to abandon the vessel temporarily, at least, although representatives of the owners expressed a hope of saving her if the sea moderated.

Captain McDonald and several of the officers and crew will remain at Sambro to take charge of the work of lightering the cargo in case weather conditions permit.

The Sambro Ledges have been the scene of many wrecks and few vessels that have struck them have gotten off safely. The ledges extend for nearly two miles from Sambro Head, on which there is a powerful light, a fog signal and wireless station.

The City of Sydney has been running regularly all winter between New York and St. Johns, calling at this port each way. The steamer left New York Saturday with 13 passengers. It hit stag rock, one of the outer ledges, about 4 o'clock this morning, and at once began pounding. Within a short time the rocks had punctured the steamer's hull in several places.

The wireless, however, continued in commission and help was summoned.

BOILING SOUP KILLS CHILD.

Youngster Succumbs to Scalds After Suffering Three Weeks.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 18.—As the result of scalds received three weeks ago, when he was drenched by a shower of boiling sour, 4-year-old Wm. Caldori, of No. 92 9south 10th street, died yesterday in the Pennsylvania Hospital. The youngster was left in the kitchen of the Calori home while his mother went to a neighboring house to get water. A big pot of soup was boiling on the stove and the child grabbed the handle, upsetting the contents on himself.

BIG FIGHT ON AT TORREON GATES

Federals, Making Sortie, Said to be Pressing Rebels Vigorously.

VILLA TO THE FRONT.

Huerta's Troops Slay Comrades Who Proved False—Lind to Meet Man Who May be Next President.

Juarez, Mexico, March 18.—Heavy fighting, with the rebels hard pressed, was repeated last night at Escalon. A force of Federals is said to have met Villa's army at that point, an important railroad town, 100 miles north of Torreon, and both sides have been reinforced. The battle is said to have raged fiercely all day yesterday.

The railroad from Torreon runs north through Escalon to Jiminez, Chihuahua, and beyond. On each side of the road are mountains. These fourteen miles are marked with rifle pits dug in previous revolutions. It is reported that the Federals, whose numbers are not known, moved out of Torreon in two detachments, pursuant to orders from Provisional President Huerta.

One detachment is said to have moved over the plains west of the railroad, with the mountains between it and the road, while the main body went directly by rail to Escalon. The eastern detachment evidently was trying to get in Villa's rear, as it was moving in the direction of Jiminez, which is 55 miles north of Escalon.

General Urbana, of the constitutionalists, however, had been posted at Rosario to guard against just such strategy, and last Saturday is said to have encountered the advance guard of Federals at or near the city, which is about 110 miles west of Jiminez. He is said to have been outnumbered and to have telegraphed for men and artillery.

The main battle at Escalon, apparently nicely timed by General Velasco, the federal commander, to occur after reinforcements had been detached to assist Urbana, is believed to have begun last night or early today No details are available.

Mexico City, March 18.—In squads of a dozen men each, 140 mutineers were taken from the federal barracks at Jojutla today, lined up against a stone wall and executed.

It is required less than a half hour for the slaughter of the men who rebelled at service in the army of General Huerta. The firing squad worked rapidly and pumped bullets into the bodies of their former comrades as fast as they were lined up.

Bodies were piled high along the wall when the last squads were brought out, and those going to their death stumbled over the forms of those who had faced the rifles of the executioners only a few minutes before. With the last mutineer dead, the bodies were buried in one trench.

Huerta has ordered the strictest discipline enforced in all garrisons. A stone wall and firing squad awaits leaders of any rebellious outbreak.

...ES EXEMPTION BILL.

Franklin County May be Forced to Operate Unprofitable Railway Line.

Richmond, Va., March 18.—When Governor Stuart sent House bill 450 back to the General Asembly yesterday with his veto, he complicated the embarrassing situation in which the Board of Supervisors of Franklin County finds itself in regard to the Franklin and Pittsylvania Railway. This bill, which passed both houses, allowed the supervisors to exempt the stock of the Franklin and Pittsylvania Railway from taxation. Governor Stuart vetoed it on the advice of Attorney-General Pollard, who declared it in direct conflict with the Constitution.

As a result of the veto there is a possibility that Franklin county may have to take over the Franklin and Pittslyvania Railway next month and operate it, thus giving the first practical demonstration of government ownership of railways in the United States.

The line, which runs from Franklin Junction to Mount Airy, is owned outright by the county of Franklin. There is about $40,000 worth of stock, all in the possession of the county. Thirty-three years ago the road was leased to the Southern Railway, but proved a losing proposition Five years ago the Southern made application to the Corporation Commission to be relieved of the task of operating the line.. At one time the Southern offered to give its lease and a bonus of $40,000 to any company which would undertake to operate the one train a day run over the Franklin and Pittsylvania system.

The lease held by the Southern expires next month, and will not be renewed. Negotiations for the sale of the stock were begun some time ago by the board of supervisors and were to have been completed when the General Assembly passed the bill exempting the stock from taxation. It is said that the failure of the exemption clause to be enacted may defeat the plan for the sale of the stock. In that case the county will have to operate the line or abandon property valued at $40,000.

BOYS FIGURE AS BANDITS.

Youths Rob a House And Plan to be Real Gunmen of the Wild West.

Pottsville, Pa., March 18.—As a result of a number of robberies, 22 boys were placed under arrest here yesterday. The ambition of David Stanton, George Kerstetter, John Loeb and Verno Morgan, four Port Carbon boys, to become highwaymen and general gunmen, was crushed and the order they forwarded to Chicago for four revolvers has been countermanded.

The boys are all under 16 years of age, and they have been pals for a long time. On the night of the first day of March, the opening of the recent blizzard, they planned to enter the home of Miss Margaret Cather, on First street, Port Carbon, and loot the place.

Miss Cather had gone to Roxborburgh, Philadelphia, to visit her nephew, Dr. J. B. Roxby, intending to remain but a few days, but was taken ill and compelled to extend her visit.

The boys worked leisurely through the house, opening bureau drawers, closets and chests, and tossed their contents over the floor. Their reward was $72, a $500 United States gold-bearing bond,, a bankbook showing a small balance and a $100 Port Carbon borough bond.

When arrested the boys restored some of the plunder, and their parents will make good the other losses, so they were permitted to go under parole.

Seventeen other youths ranging from 10 to 16 years were arrested for robbing a Reading Railway passenger train. A number were fined and three others are being held under bail.

ALLEN OUTLAWS MAY GET PAROLE

Bill Gives Prison Board Right to Grant it After Three Years.

ACT NOT YET SIGNED.

Measure, it is Alleged, Was Rushed Through House in Closing Hour Without Explanation.

Richmond, March 18.—The attention of Governor Stuart was called yesterday to a bill which went through the House of Delegates in the closing rush on Saturday night, under which the Allen outlaws, now confined in the State penitentiary, may be paroled by the penitentiary board within the next two years. The present law provides that the board may parole a prisoner who has served one-half of his term if he has kept the prison rules. The General Assembly amended that law by making it "three years" or "half of" a term of imprisonment for which a convict was sentenced.

In bringing the matter before the eyes of the Governor opponents of the bill did so with the idea of urging him to veto it. The Governor left the city last night for Bristol, to return on Friday. It was said at the Capitol that the enrolled bill had not reached his office. The Governor has ten days after adjournment of the constructive session to sign or veto all measures. It is expected, therefore, that a big fight will be waged next week by friends and opponents of the Allens for and against approval.

While strong denials came from some of the people who were unfaltering in their efforts to save the Hillsville court murderers from death and long terms in the penitentiary, it is known that many Allen sympathizers worked for the amended law. The change in the Code appeared to be so unimportant that it did not attract attention. The Senae did not give it more than passing consideration. It was called up in the House on Saturday night and went through in a rush that carried with it scores of local measures.

ARREST SLAYER AT FUNERAL.

Bandit, Kneeling Among Mourners, Taken After Desperate Fight.

Montreal, March 18.—As Joseph Beauchamp knelt among the mourners at the funeral of a little girl yesterday, a constable arrested him for murder. Though taken unaware, Beauchamp made a desperate struggle to reach his pistol, the constable overcome him and marched him to jail.

Beauchamp, it is alleged, is one of three bandits, who killed Constable Bourdon, last Wednesday, at St. Laurent. In their search for the murderers the police scoured the province in vain until Beauchamp was seen entering the church today. A constable followed and waited until the man had knelt among the mourners before he tried to make the capture. The fight that followed broke up the funeral.

Women Accuse Pastor.

New York, March 18.—"I am absolutely innocent of the charges against me. This is the fight of all the law and decency; it is the fight of all the clergymen of New York city."

This was all the Rev. Dr. Jacob Henry Price, pastor of the Washington Heights Methodist Episcopal Church, would say yesterday regarding the mysterious charges brought by the women of his congregation.

The celebration of St. Patrick's Day yesterday was general throughout the United States, and the banquet given last night by Alexandria Division, No. 1, A. O. H., was the last act in honoring of the memory of Ireland's patron Saint in this city.

The feast was given at the Hotel Rammel, and the members of the organization and invited friends experienced a delightful evening.

The banquet hall had been appropriately and tastefully decorated with flags of the Emerald Isle, while the table, which had been ladened in the most inviting manner, was decorated with suggestive emblems in harmony with the day.

M. E. Greene, chairman, of the entertainment committee, acted as toastmaster. Addresses were made by Representative McMahon, William Desmond, president of the division; Captain W. H. Sweeney, superintendent of schools; F. J. McFarland, F. T. Quinn, T. D. Downey, William H. P. Kelly, James Roche, and T. J. McFarland. During the evening M. The Potomac Brick Company, one of the largest manufacturing concerns in Alexandria county, whose plant is located at Waterloo, near Arlington station of the Washington-Virginia Railway, was placed in the hands of receivers yesterday afternoon by Judge J. B. T. Thornton, of the Circuit Court of Alexandria county, in vacation, sitting at Fairfax court house.

Atttorneys Douglass Mackall, of Washington, and Leo P. Harlow, of Alexandria and Washington, were named as receivers, and took possession of the plant today. The application for a receiver was made by the Land and Title Trust Company of Philadelphia, acting as trustee for the bond-holders who hold $31,000 in bonds of the company.

The receivers were instructed by the court to make a report as early as possible as to the financial condition of the company and to recommend whether or not they should operate the factory or have the property sold.

The plant has been closed for the past nine months. It is stated that the business of last year was not profitable. The assets are supposed to cover the liabilities, the company owing a large acreage of clay lands in Alexandria county. H. Bradley Davidson, of Washington, is president of the company.

The Wizard Triangle Mop Should Be in Every Home

Most every one is buying Polish Mops of some kind nowadays to clean easily and perfectly the modern hardwood floors, door and window frames, pictures, moldings, and the like.

But it is not sufficient to simply get a polish mop of some kind, but get a Wizard Triangle Mop," and a new 1914 model

The new model is improved. In shape, quality, durability, it is the same as last year, but it is more adaptable to every use than formerly, because it has the adjustable handle that works on the same principle as your elbow.

The "human elbow" handle bends with the ease suggested, and this handle is 54 inches long, thereby eliminating all kneeling, stooping, bending, tiptoeing and stretching.

The mop is now being demonstrated in our housefurnishing section by a woman who knows all about its ability and what it will accomplish. We will be glad to explain and show you.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE.

Miss Pattie Miller, of Huntington, Taken to Hospital.

Miss Pattie Miller, of Huntingtotn, W. Va., a granddaughter of James C. Tinsley, of "Picquenocque," Hanover county, and a visitor in the home of Judge William A. Moncure, 7 West Grace street, her uncle, was injured in an automobile accident on the Ashland Road, near Ashland, at 5:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. She is reported doing well in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, her injuries consisting principally in bruises and sprains.

In the automobile with Miss Miller were Miss Gwendolyn Rutherford, Miss Francis Wheat and Moylan Fitz, all of Richmond, none of whom were injured in any extent. The car, which is owned by Mr. T. M. Rutherford, was driven by the chauffeur.

Striking a ditch beside the road, the automobile, a touring car, turned turtle. When it was found that Miss Miller was injured, Mr. Fitz secured another car and Miss Miller was rushed to the home of Judge Moncure. Dr. C. A. Blanton was called in, and thought it would be best to remove Miss Miller to the hospital, where she could have perfect quiet and could be best cared for. She will be out in a few days.

Norfolk, Va., March 18.—Owing to pressing diocesan duties, Bishop Alfred Magill Randolph, of the diocese of southern Virginia, has been compelled to decline an invitation from Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph E. Willard, at the court of Madrid, to officiate in April at Madrid at the marriage of their daughter to Kermit Roosevelt, son of former President Theodore Roosevelt.

The invitation was borne to Bishop Randolph by Randolph Holladay, of Richmond.

EARTH SWALLOWS CHILDREN.

Little Girl Clings to Long Pole, But Brother Hasn't Strength.

Scranton, Pa., March 18.—While at play in a vacant lot near their home, Florence and George Phillips, aged 7 and 4 years, respectively, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips, of No. 644 North Summer avenue, fell into a mine cave opening about 20 feet and had a narrow escape.

As it was the children were half covered with dirt and stones and were badly bruised. It was necessary to lower long poles to them, and the girl was rescued by this means; but the little boy did not have strength enough to cling to the pole, and a man had to descend into the cave to get them.

The Missouri Athletic Club building in St. Louis, in which thirty persons were crushed and burned to death took another heavy toll of human life yesterday when one of the walls fell, crushing the building occupied by St. Louis Seed Company, with its large roll of employes and customers. Three are known to be dead, fourteen injured have been rescued alive, and it is not known how many others, living or dead, are buried. One hundred and seventy men working in the ruins under direction of Inspector of Buildings McKelvey were ordered out just in time, and had barely got clear of the wall when it fell.

SUSPICIOUS DEATH.

Detectives Investigating Fate of Italian in Richmond.

Richmond, March 18.—Sixteen days after the man's death the police yesterday were engaged in investigating persistent reports that Carmine Fucella an aged Italian, who was found dead in his room at 313 North Nineteenth street was murdered instead of burned to death accidentally.

At least three members of the detective bureau, Detective-Sergeants Wiltshire, Bailey and Wiley, are known to be at work on the case.

The account of Fucella's death as given out by the police, firemen and coroner the night of February 28 was to the effect that he had gone to bed smoking, fell asleep and set fire to the clothes on the bed.

A remarkable part of the account was that Fucella was found dead by firemen with an arm and leg burned completely off.

March 6 Fuccella's will was filed in the chancery court. Donato Fuccella, a brother, qualified as administrator. The dead man left $1,991,-64 on deposit in the Merchants' National Bank. He had been a familiar sight on the street for years with his ice cream wagon.

One of the detectives assigned to the investigation which has just been started said:" I have been told that the first persons who entered the old man's room the night of the fire started throwing things out of the window with a view to stopping the flames from spreading.

"I am told—although I have no proof of it at this time—that the limbs, which are said to have been burned from Fucella's body, were among the things thrown out. Afterward it was noticed that a leg and arm were missing and the mistake was discovered. The limbs were returned to the room.

Fucella left a widow, who resides somewhere in Italy, the detective said, but details about her are lacking.

Body Found in Dock.

Richmond, March 18.—The body of F. B. Atkins, of Orange, Va., was found in the city dock yesterday afternoon at the foot of Twenty-second street and was fully identified soon afterwards by his brother, Louis P. Atkins, a barber of 1515 East Main street.

Atkins came to Richmond several weeks ago to visit his brother. The morning of his arrival he came to the barber shop and after depositing his suitcase said that he was going out for a walk And that was the last seen of him until he was located today in the dock.

Otis Smith, 10-year-old son of Lawson Smith, fretting because he had to care for a younger child while his mother went calling, hanged himself from an apple tree near Bristol, Va.

MIGHT PENSION TEACHERS.

Commissioner Sees no Reason Why They Should Not Profit by the Plan.

Richmond, March 18.—Is it proposed to include teachers in the city pension fund which the Administrative Board wishes to establish for the benefit of city employes incapacitated or disabled after twenty years of service?

Asked this question, Commissioner Hirschberg said that he saw no reason why teachers should not be included in the pension plan, even though they may be eligible at the same time for a pension from the State.

While the plan is as yet in embryoynic shape, Mr. Hishberg promised to confer with the City Attorney and endeavor to have a clause inserted in the proposed ordinance making provision for teachers who are in the city.

The resolution, as introduced by Mr. Hirschberg and adopted by the Administrative Board, provides for the payment of $30 per month to city employes eligible under the terms of the plan.

There is no reason, in the opinion of Mr. Hirschberg, why a teacher should not be classed as an employe of the city.

Authority for the pension fund is contained in the recently amended city charter, and it was on the strength of this that the Administrative Board took action. As to how the money for the funds is to be raised is a question up to Council to decide.

The pension funds of the police and fire departments, which are distinctly separate from the proposed plan, are sustained principally by small monthly levies on the members.

FIRE IN DANVILLE.

Hodnett & Keeling's Place of Business Ruined to Extent of $27,000.

Danville, Va., March 18.—A stubborn fire which broke out in the basement of Hodnett & Keeling's clothing store Main street, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning ruined a stock of men's clothing valued at $27,000 and blackened the entire three-story building by smoke. Insurance will cover the damage.

The fire originated from a pile of cinders which were thrown down in the basement among pacink boxes from the store.

The fumes were so dense that the firemen were unable to get at the flames until they broke through the floor, allowing the smoke to escape.

PROSPECTS IN THE NINTH DISTRICT.

Democrats from the Ninth District met in Bristol today for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. Messrs. B. F. Buchanan and R. T. Irvine are the prominent candidates before the convention. About three hundred delegates and members of the party are in Bristol, and great enthusiasm prevails, as it is the conviction throughout the state that the time has come when the black belt is to be obliterated and a solid Democratic delegation elected to the next Congress. Governor Stuart is a delegate to the convention.

The Ninth District has for a long time been an eyesore in the Old Dominion. It has been the assemblying point of republican officeseekers, and although sorely pressed at times, the members of that party have managed to scare up small republican majorities.

Those who have made close observations are disposed to believe that the political suns of Slemp, Summers and Co., are about to set, and that new graves will shortly be opened in Virginia's political cemetery.

It has always been believed that when the right man comes along the shackles of republican rule in the great Southwest will be broken, and either of the gentlemen mentioned by the Democrats as their standard bearer is likely to prove to be an Achilles for the occasion.

The breaking of black belts takes time, and the Democrats have been using their battering rams in the Ninth District for years. The vibrations from the steady work are becoming more and more audible and the collapse of the walls may be a matter of a short time.

Alexandria had a black belt shortly after the close of the civil war. The Fourth Ward was solidly republican and generally one negro and white man represented the ward in the Board of Aldermen. At one time Judge Underwood's colleague was George Seaton. In the lower board T. B. Pinn, Charles Scales and another colored man named Claggett had seats.

In the latter part of the seventies the late Courtland H. Smith, who was later mayor of the city, succeeded in placing that ward in the Democratic column where it has since remained.

DANGEROUS SAMBRO LEDGE.

Dispatches from Halifax state that the passenger steamer City of Sydney during a fog yesterday ran on Sambro Ledge at the entrance to the harbor of Halifax. Wireless telegraphy brought other steamers to the rescue and no lives were lost.

The accident to the City of Sydney brings to mind the fate of the transatlantic steamer Atlantic, March 31, 1873, on the same ledge of rocks, when between five and six hundred persons perished.

The Atlantic belonged to the White Star line and was on her way from Liverpool to New York. In those days it was customary for some British ships on their way to America to call at Halifax for the purpose of taking in supplies of coal, the English preferring to purchase everything possible at British ports.

Early on the morning of March 31, 1873, the Atlantic reached the coast of Nova Scotia with the purpose of calling at Halifax. Captain Williams, 35 years of age, who had never been in the harbor before, went to sleep while those in charge of the steamer were attempting to enter the harbor. They failed to see Sambro Light and the ship soon struck the dangerous ledge. She began to fill, and in the cold and darkness the scenes incident to men and women appearing on the deck scantily attired were terrible.

There was no wireless telegraphy in those days, and although cannon were discharged and rockets sent up, no aid came, and by the time the news of the disaster reached Halifax nearly six hundred persons had drowned or perished from cold and hunger.

COMMISSION APPOINTED.

Fifteen Ministers and Laymen of Richmond Are to Probe Vice.

Richmond, Va., March 18.—Mayor Ainslie last night appointed a committee of fifteen representative ministers and members of the laity to conduct a thorough investigation of vice conditions in this city, and to make such recommendations with regard to the local problem as will afford a "net gain in relief."

The men and women selected for this exacting work were last night notified by the mayor of their appointment. To each one the Mayor mailed a statement outlining the object sought to be atained by the commission. The statement is conservative in tone and approaches the problem with a full recognition of the difficulties involved.

PROPOSALS.

Proposals will be received by the committees on Public Property and Fire until 7:30 o'clock P. M., Thursday, April 9th, 1914, at the City Engineer's Office, and then opened, for the erection of the Relief Hook and Ladder building. Plans, specifications and particulars can be had at the City Engineer's office. The right is reserved to reject any and all proposals. A certified check for $200 payable to Thomas W. Robinson, City Treasurer, must accompany each proposal as a guarantee that the proposer who may be awarded the contract will furnish bond and enter contract with the City Council for the erection of the building. The check to be forfeited to the City Council in case of failure of the bidder to whom contract may be awarded to furnish acceptable bond and enter into contract within ten days after award of contract.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Corte Tarquin Caselia, a leading member of Italian society, shot himself Monday on his mother's grave in a cemetery at Florence.

In a report to the War Department, in Washington, Adjutant General Forbes, of the National Guard of California, has given official cognizance to an alleged plan of "General" Kelley's unemployed army to seize the Federal arsenal at Rock Island, Ill., in order to equip 500,000 men for a revolution against the government.

Six armed men early yesterday went to a North Side Hotel in Chicago knocked down the proprietor, and at the point of revolvers forced Miss Margaret Miller, 24 years old, to accompany them. D. Evanoff, proprietor of the hotel, told the police the men entered the hotel and demanded to see the girl. When Evanoff refused to allow them to go to her room he said the men knocked him down. At the point of their revolvers they awoke the young woman and forced her through a rear exit into a waiting automobile.

Mrs. Elsie Whalen Goelet, prominent in society circles of New York, and Newport, was granted a divorce yesterday from Robert Goelet on the ground of extreme cruelty. By mutual agreement, the terms of which were not made public, both are to have custody of their elder son, Ogden, aged 6. The mother is to keep Peter, aged 2 years, their only other child, until he is 6 years old, when she is to share the custody of the child with the father. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Goelet was in court, and the suit was uncontested. All the testimony was by depositions, which were read in tones so low, as to be barely audible.

Dr. James Devon, prison commissioner for Scotland, when attacked yesterday by an irate militant suffragettee armed with a dog whip, took the law in his own hands and knocked his assailant down with a well aimed left hand blow.

Nine coaches belonging to the Midland Railway were burned by a suffragette arson squad early yesterday at Kings Norton, six miles from Birmingham, England.

Catherine Wilson, a suffragette, was arrested in the lobby of the British House of Commons last night. She was dressed in male attire, and had a dog whip in her sleeve. It is supposed that she was waiting to attack members of the government.

A cyclonic gale swept over the United Kingdom yesterday from west to east. The wind reached a velocity of 70 miles an hour. A tug foundered in the Thames, with the loss of five lives. The big Dutch steamer Noodwirk is disabled off the Isle of Wight.

Five priests have been slain by rebels in the Mexican state of Tamaulipas since November 18 last, three are held for ransom, a convent has been burned, and a cathedral and a smaller church looted, according to two Catholic priests, Father Jose Moreno Madina and Father Raymon Gonzales, who have arrived at New Orleans.

Of about 5,000 members of the Misses and Children's Dressmaker's Union of New York, mostly women, who were reported at the point of striking, nearly 2,000 left employment yesterday. About 100 of the smaller manufacturers are affected. After the walk-out the strikers had several meetings at their union headquarters, where the situation was discussed. No disorder resulted.

One trainman was killed and four others were hurt, probably fatally, when a freight engine on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad jumped the track and crashed into the West Washington Station, early yesterday, at Washington Pa. The injured are hurt so badly that it is not believed they will live. J.E. Kingeley, of Benwood, W. Va., was killed instantly.

A young woman singer assaulted Victor Agagneur, vice-president of the French Chamber of Deputies, as he was about to open parliament yesterday. Much excitement was caused by the attack, owing to its happening so soon after the assassination of Gaston Calmette, editor of Figaro. M. Agagneur who is deputy from the Rhone Department, was entering the parliarrent hall for the session, which was just ready to open, when the attack occurred. His assailant was arrested, but was later set at liberty. The motive for her action did not become known. M. Agagneur later presided calmly over the session of the chamber.

Telephone Achievements
Telephone Service of Today The Creation of the Bell Company.

In no line of human endeavor has the inventive brain of the scientist contributed more to the world's progress than by the creation of the art of telephony, of which the Bell system is the embodiment.

When the telephone was born nothing analogous to telephone service as we now know it existed. There was no tradition to guide, no experience to follow.

The system, the apparatus, the methods—an entire new art had to be created. The art of electrical engineering did not exist. The Bell pioneers, recognizing that success depended upon the highest engineering and technical skill at once organized an experimental and research department which is now directed by a staff of over 550 engineers and scientists, including former professors, post-graduate students, scientific investigators,—the graduates of over 70 universities.

From its foundation the company has continuously developed the art. New improvements in telephones, switchboards, lines, cables, have followed one another with remarkable rapidity.

While each successive type of apparatus to the superficial observer suggested similarity, each step in the evolution marked a decided improvement. These changes, this evolution, has not only been continuous, but is continuing. Substantially all of the plant now in use, including telephones, switchboards, cables, and wires, has been constructed, renewed or reconstructed in the past 10 years.

Particularly in switchboards have the changes been so radical that installation costing in the aggregate of millions have frequently been discarded after only a few years of use.

Since 1877 there have been introduced 53 types and styles of receivers and 73 types and styles of transmitters. Of the 12,000,000 telephone receivers and transmitters owned by the Bell Company January 1, 1914, none were in use prior to 1902, while the average age is less than five years.

Within 10 years we have expended for construction and reconstruction an amount more than equal to the present book value of our entire plant.

Long-distance and underground transmission was the most formidable scientific problem confronting the telephone experts.

The retarding effect of the earth on the telephone current often impaired conversation through one mile underground as much as through 100 miles overhead. Overhead conversation has its distinct limitations.

No possible improvement in the telephone transmitter could of itself solve these difficulties.

The solution was only found in the cumulative effect of improvements, great and small, in telephone, transmitter, line, cable, switchboard, and every other piece of apparatus or plant required in the transmission of speech.

While the limit of commercial overhead talking had increased from strictly local to over 1,000 miles as early as 1893, it was not until 1905 that conversation could be had over long-distance circuits.

Of which as much as 20 miles was in underground cables. By 1906 underground talking distance had increased to 90 miles. By 1912 it was possible to talk underground from New York to Washington.

It was then that the construction of underground conduits from Boston to Washington was determined upon,—not that it was expected to get a thorough underground talk between these places, but in case of storm or blizzard, to utilize intermediate sections in connection with the overhead.

Our present study and incessant experimentation have produced results more remarkable still.

We have perfected cables, apparatus and methods that have overcome obstacles heretofore regarded as insuperable both to long-distance overhead and underground conversation.

Underground conversation is now possible between Boston and Washington, four times the length of the longest European underground line. This enabled the Bell system in the recent great storm, so destructive on land and sea, to maintain communication for the public between all the principal points on the Atlantic seaboard.

Telephone communication is established between New York and Denver, is potentially possible between all points in the United States, and by 1915 will be an accomplished fact between New York and San Francisco.

In our use of methods or apparatus, we are committed to no one system. We own, control or have the right to use inventions necessary to operate any system recognized or accepted as the most efficient. The Bell System must always recognize, and in its selection must always be governed by the necessities of a national service, with its complex requirements, which is infinitely more exacting than local or limited service.

These achievements represent vast expenditures of money and immense concentration of effort which have been justified by results of immeasurable benefit to the public. No local company unaided could bear the financial or scientific burden of this work. Such results are possible only through a centralized general staff, avoiding waste in duplication of effort, working out problems common to all, for the benefit of all.

The pioneers of the Bell system recognized that telephone service as they saw it, was in the broadest sense a public utility; that upon them rested a public obligation to give the best possible service at the most reasonable rates consistent with risk, investment and the continued improvement and maintenance of its property.

Without this expenditure of millions and concentration of effort, the telephone art as it exists could not have been developed.

What we have done in working out these great problems in the past should be accepted as a guarantee of what we will do in the future.

WILL HOLD MONTICELLO.

Jefferson Home Not for Sale, Says Representative Levy.

Representative Jefferson Levy told the Senate committee on public buildings and grounds yesterday that he would under no circumstances agree to sell Monticello, the old home of Thomas Jefferson, to the government.

Asked what would be his attitude if the government should decide upon condemnation proceedings to acquire title to the property, he answered:

"I could not tell in that case. But I will never willingly part with my property."

The committee was considering a joint resolution offered by Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, proposing to create a joint committee of Congress to acquire the land by purchase or condemnation, and appropriating $500,000 for the purpose.

Representative Levy was accompanied by his attorney, R. T. W. Duke, of Charlottesville, Va., who made a thorough review of the whole from the standpoint of the present owner.

Asked specifically about the resolution adopted by the Virginia legislature in February memorializing Congress to acquire the property "to be held in trust for all the people of the nation" he expressed surprise at the action.

Mrs. Martin W. Littleton, wife of the New York lawyer and former member of Congress, has again taken up the fight actively to acquire Monticello for the government, and announces that she will not rest until Jefferson's old home and the graveyard where his body lies in Albemarle county, Virginia, become the property of the nation.

FIRE ON STEAMER ALABAMA.

Baltimore, Md., March 18.—Fire in the second cabin of the Old Bay Line steamer Alabama yesterday morning caused the sounding of two alarms and the rush of half of Baltimore fire apparatus to the water front. Because of the smoke great difficulty was experienced in locating the blaze which at first was thought to be in the cargo in the hold.

The fire was extinguished in about an hour after it was located. The damage is estimated at less than $1,000.

The fire started from an unknown cause about three hours after the Alabama arrived from Norfolk.

TO SAVE THE FISH SUPPLY.

Purse Netting May be Forbidden in the Chesapeake Above Point Lookout.

Annapolis, Md., March 18.—Having met for the purpose of further considering Senator Beck's bill to extend the boundaries within which purse-net fishing is allowed in the Chesapeake Bay, the Senate committee on Game and Fish yesterday afternoon virtually agreed to recommend legislation which will put a stop altogether to the use of purse nets north of a line drawn from Point Lookout, at the mouth of the Potomac River, across the bay to Watkins' Point, on the Eastern Shore.

Purse nets are said to be the most destructive agency of food fish now in use. The Beck bill proposes to permit their use as high up the bay as a line drawn from the mouth of the Gunpowder River across to a point above Betterton. The measure was brough tout of the committee some days ago and met with violent opposition from Senators Campbell and Archer. The latter proposed the amendment, which has now practically been agreed upon. Then Senator Beck agreed to have the bill recommitted.

Talbot Denmead, attorney for the Fish and Game Protecticve Association, and Dr. Holly B. Smith appeared before the committee in opposition to the Beck measure when it was brought out of the committee some day afternoon. While the hearing was in progress yesterday afternoon the statement was made that the purse-net fishers have not restricted themselves to the boundaries within which they were permitted to use nets, but have even invaded the shoals of the upper bay. The claim was made that at different times four tons of rock fish were taken in different hauls on one of the spawning grounds.
